SUMMARY

This paper describes the status of Finnish fairway infrastructure and sea environment. The article defines specialties of Finnish waterways, AtoN and related technologies. The paper gives general information about Finnish maritime trade and traffic. The article takes a look on fairway infrastructure history and financing of it. The developing process of the fairway network of Finland is presented too.

There is an overview of the latest major changes in the business environment of Finnish Maritime Administration and consequences of them. The paper includes the current development program with an updated list of projects.